

Employee Onboarding Guide

Welcome

Welcome to the company. This guide will help you navigate your first days and weeks. Your manager and the HR team are here to support you. Do not hesitate to ask questions at any point during your onboarding.

Before Your First Day

You will receive an email with instructions to complete your pre-employment paperwork online. This includes your employment contract, tax forms, and bank details for payroll. You will also receive information about your first day including start time, location, and who to ask for upon arrival.

First Day

On your first day, you will meet your manager, receive a tour of the office, and be introduced to your team. Your IT equipment will be ready for you. You will set up your accounts including email, Slack, and relevant software systems. The IT helpdesk is available at it-help@company.com for technical issues.

First Week

During your first week, you will complete mandatory compliance training covering data protection, information security, and the code of conduct. These must be completed within 5 business days of starting. Your manager will schedule one-on-one meetings with key colleagues you will work with.

First Month

In your first month, you will complete a full onboarding checklist provided by HR. You will have a 30-day check-in with your manager to discuss how onboarding is progressing. You will be assigned a buddy from your team who can answer informal questions.

HR Contacts

For general HR queries contact hr@company.com. For payroll questions contact payroll@company.com. For benefits enrollment contact benefits@company.com. The HR team is available Monday to Friday 9am to 5pm. An HR portal is available at hr.company.com for self-service requests.

Probationary Period

All new employees serve a 90-day probationary period. During this time, either party may terminate employment with 1 week's notice. At the end of the probationary period, your manager will conduct a review. Successful completion confirms your employment and activates your full benefits.
